

Source minerals responsibly with increased transparency

The conflict minerals landscape has changed significantly over the years with an expanded focus beyond the scope of 3TG to include unregulated minerals, such as cobalt, mica, copper, and lithium. As legislation continues to develop, companies with in-house minerals compliance programs struggle with a lack of internal resources to sufficiently collect data, produce compliance reports, and reduce risk.

How we can help: Our Conflict Minerals Program

Source Intelligence offers the industry's most comprehensive responsible sourcing solution, covering 3TG, extended minerals, and other unregulated minerals of concern. Our conflict minerals program facilitates supplier engagement, data analysis, and document generation through powerful compliance software with fully managed service options. Regardless of the level of support needed, you can be confident that your minerals are sourced responsibly.

- ✓ Flexible modular platform
- ✓ Multi-tiered BOM management
- ✓ Integrations to all major PLM & ERP platforms

Program Benefits

Reduce internal resource burdens

Streamline responsible sourcing due diligence efforts, such as supplier engagement, data collection and validation, and report generation, to refocus internal resources on other parts of your business.

Drive efficiency with centralized data

Easily access your minerals compliance data in a centralized location and generate on-demand compliance reports and documents to fulfill customer requests.

Mitigate supply chain risk

Categorize supplier data and identify high-risk suppliers to make informed responsible sourcing decisions. Maintaining a sound supplier list reduces the risk of fines or supply chain disruptions.

Increase supply chain visibility over time

Our multi-lingual supplier engagement team utilizes best practices proven to reduce supplier fatigue and consistently improve response rates and data accuracy.

Ready to connect?

Schedule a demo of our conflict minerals program and discover how our software and services can help you achieve your compliance goals. To get started, contact us at:
sourceintelligence.com/schedule-a-demo

