Source deforestation-free commodities

As the detrimental effects of deforestation continue to influence worldwide legislation, companies are subjected to additional supply chain compliance obligations, such as those of the European Union Deforestation Regulation (EUDR). The EUDR requires retailers, manufacturers, and traders to prove their products have not contributed to deforestation and forest degradation.

Several commodities are in the scope of the regulation, such as cattle, wood, cocoa, soy, palm oil, coffee, rubber, and some of their derived products. With such a wide scope, collecting and analyzing data and generating reports to prove EUDR compliance is extremely challenging without the right tools and expertise.

How we can help:
Our EUDR Program

Source Intelligence delivers a comprehensive solution to the challenges of EUDR compliance by monitoring your supply chain and tracking the sources of the commodities used in your products. With our EUDR software, you can map your supply chain, conduct initial risk assessments, perform mitigations, and produce due diligence statements to prove your products are deforestation-free.

We offer a self-serve (software only) solution that gives you all the technology you need to manage your EUDR program in-house or a managed services option that puts your EUDR program in the hands of our experts to collect and validate data. Regardless of the level of support you need, you can be confident in your compliance with the EUDR.

Program benefits

Reduce internal resource burdens

Automate the manual task of supplier outreach and follow-up to collect product certification, country of harvest, and species data.

Simplify risk identification

Automatically compare supplier-captured plots to satellite images to identify if a plot has a high risk of deforestation.

Minimize business risk

Quickly identify legal risks by generating supplier risk scores based on product certifications, country of harvest, and species data for a material source and automatically request additional documentation from high-risk suppliers.

Amplify supply chain visibility

Unlock complete visibility with supply chain mapping, which maps your supply chain by associating products to supplier contracts and monitors how much of the contract has been fulfilled based on registered deliveries.

Easily fulfill reporting obligations

Automatically generate due diligence statements using the gathered data to submit to the EU Council and fulfill obligations.

Streamline risk analysis

Easily create reports and dashboards to analyze important insights such as the location of high-risk suppliers, the number of compliant material sources, and more.
